WHAT PARTICIPANTS ARE SAYING

As a testbed, I have a resource with AARP to seek out solutions for any challenge I might have as a nonprofit retirement community.

I have a resource to discuss how to best select and evaluate companies seeking to bring a service or product into our community. And I have a partner to help measure efficacy. In the end, the testbed relationship helps us to know, empirically, the strength of our programming so we can know we are making a difference.

(TESTBED)

I have been through 3 meetings with companies that the AgeTech Collaborative has introduced me to and all have been impressive. Zibrio in particular is going to be shared with the team to evaluate for a possible opportunity.

(ENTERPRISE)

As repeat founders who have participated in multiple top accelerators and incubators, the AgeTech Collaborative is hands down one of the most valuable programs we've been a part of. As important and timely as innovation in ageTech is, startups in this space are still relatively nascent and trailblazing new strategies, making the connections and insights shared between us indispensable.

MIGHTY HEALTH
(STARTUP)

The AgeTech Collaborative has created a powerful community at scale of entrepreneurs, investors and champions of innovation in longevity and aging. Only together can we address the significant opportunities facing older adults of health, wealth and self.

We are proud to be a founding member.
