The AgeTech Collaborative is a B2B virtual space that brings together the most innovative AgeTech startups, entrepreneurs, investors, and champions to build modern solutions to empower people to choose healthy, wealth and self-fulfilling lives.

Our Accelerator Program helps the most promising AgeTech startups take their idea from concept to reality. We help them refine their solutions before they are ready to join the Collaborative and connect them with the rest of the ecosystem. Only together can we address the significant opportunities facing older adults of health, wealth and self.

We see the potential of AgeTech because we’re helping create it.

40-60 new AgeTech startups are sourced each year by AgeTech Collaborative™ accelerators and incubators, seeking to bring a service or product to market. As repeat founders who have participated in multiple top accelerators and incubators, Zibrio in particular is going to be shared with the team to evaluate for a possible opportunity.

In the end, the testbed relationship is hands down one of the most valuable programs we’ve been a part of. As important and timely as innovation in ageTech is, we have as a nonprofit ARMY DISTAFF FOUNDATION can know we are making a difference. I have been through 3 meetings with companies, have as a nonprofit ARMY DISTAFF FOUNDATION can know we are making a difference. We help find the most modern AgeTech solutions to improve the future of AgeTech and all have been impressive.
